

Stacy Huston

Executive Director

SixDegrees.Org

Stacy Huston is the Executive Director of SixDegrees.Org, a nonprofit organization founded by Kevin Bacon. She is also the CEO of entertain change. With over 20 years of experience in sales and corporate strategy across various industries including human resources, healthcare, textiles, legal, and energy, Stacy brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to her role.

Stacy is passionate about connecting people to resources, sharing compelling stories, and amplifying causes to maximize community impact. Under her leadership, SixDegrees.Org has achieved significant milestones, including winning multiple awards such as the Anthem Award and two Webby Awards for their innovative campaigns and impactful storytelling.

Her work focuses on key areas such as youth empowerment, justice and equity, sustainable living environments, and responding to emerging crises. Stacy has been instrumental in launching successful initiatives like the "Rock to the Future" music video project, which gained national attention for providing a platform for underserved youth to showcase their talents. She also played a pivotal role in the launch of the SixDegrees Podcast, which quickly became the #1 nonprofit podcast in the United States and several other countries, consistently featuring in Apple Podcasts' weekly Top 10.

Stacy is dedicated to building strong community ties and promoting mental wellness through meaningful human connections. She is a frequent speaker at industry events, including TEDx, where she shares her insights on the power of human connection and the importance of mission-driven strategies in boosting team engagement and productivity.

Stacy's innovative approach and commitment to social impact have positioned SixDegrees.Org as a leading philanthropic agency, helping nonprofits reach larger audiences and increase their influence through expertly crafted campaigns and engaging content.
